Pine Canyon Introduces New Amenity for Visiting Guests and Residents-in-Waiting
Club Cabins Anticipated for Availability This Summer

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (Jan. 23, 2017) – Pine Canyon, a private master-planned golf course and residential community in Flagstaff, Arizona, is preparing to make one of its new Club Cabins available for the upcoming summer season. The cabin is the first of four that are planned within the community. At buildout, the collection of luxury retreats will accommodate Pine Canyon residents who may need additional space for visiting guests, or those who may be awaiting the completion of their new home in Pine Canyon.

The four cabins will provide three distinct living spaces in each building, offering 12 suites at buildout that can be reserved individually or as combined units. Situated between the clubhouse and Camp Pine Canyon, the Club Cabins will give guests easy access to all of Pine Canyon’s luxury amenities. Pine Canyon will begin taking reservations this spring preparation for the Club Cabins’ anticipated opening in mid-summer.

“It’s exciting to see this project come to fruition as we introduce this new amenity to our residents and their guests,” said Peter Burger, president of Symmetry Companies, which owns and manages Pine Canyon. “We felt this type of offering would greatly benefit our residents as they look to share the Pine Canyon experience with friends and family, while also allowing members to take part in Pine Canyon life as their home is under construction.”

Each of the Club Cabins includes two end units and one, two-story middle unit. The end units are 720 square feet, sleep up to four people and offer a covered patio. The middle units are nearly 2,000 square feet and include two king beds, two full baths and one half bath, a kitchenette, an upstairs balcony and a patio on the lower level. The interiors of each cabin feature luxury amenities and state-of-the-art entertainment components, and are outfitted with upscale furnishings. Concierge service is also available to cabin guests.
